ABOUT FURS.—[From the New York Star.] The capital embarked in the fancy fur trade in this city is immense, New York manufacturers not only meeting the local demand, but selling their goods very largely to firms both East and West. As skins are sent to market they have generally been merely dried in the sum or before a fire, having been first steeped in a solution of alum. This is necessary in order to keep them from moulding when packed for transport. The fur manufacturer does not dress his own skins, as this process, besides being very dirty work, requires abundant space. The skins are placed in tubs, together with rancid butter, and trampled upon by the feet of men. This softens them and renders them perfectly pliable. The inner sides are then rubbed with strips of iron in order to remove the loose bits of integument, and they are next trampled with mixture of sawdust, mahogany being preferred, which process removes the grease. Finally they are subjected to a beating and combing. They are now ready to be cut up into things of beauty, if not "things of jan16-ly E. S. LEADBEATER & BRO.

The skins are placed in tubs, together with tently, it is sure to cure

Dyspepaia, headache, jaundice, costiveness, sick head-ache, chronic diarrhæa, affections of the kidneys, fever, norvousness, chills, diseases of the skin, mancholy, or depression of spirits, heartburn, colic, or pains in the bowels, pain in the head, fever and ague, dropsy, boils, pain in the beack, &c.

Prepared only by J. H. ZEILIN & CO., Druggista, Macon, Georgia.

Price $1; by mail $120. For sale by jan16-ly E. S. LEADBEATER & BRO. transport. The fur manufacturer does not joy forever"-to the ladies.

A fur cutter can never have too much experiencet.

Cutting requires great skill, and great care, also excellent judgment, for the skins are never made up naturally, but from a great number of skins parts of the same shade are selected so that each article shall present a uniform color. In other cases the article is required to be striped, and to combine in stripes without wasting the valuable material is no easy matter. Russia sable sets are now made up of sable tails cut up in narrow strips and sewed between braid, which can be seen by blowing the fur. The writer was shown a muff in sixty peices, the price of which was $100. Many ladies imagine that the muffs they buy are in one entire piece, but only the commonest fur, which is not worth bothering with, is ever made up in that way, with the exception of those which are dyed. Dyeing greatly improves the appearance of the commoner grades of fur, and the manufactures assert, has no injurious effect -- a dyed set lasting as long as the undeyed.

The deying is done with brushes, and very nice piece of work, as only the edges of the fur must be touched.

The sewing is all done by women. Only the linings of the collars and sacks are quilted on the machine, all the rest being hand-work. In most instances the pay is by the piece, and it varies greatly, some women making excellent wages, while others are content with five dollars a week, and less.

With regard to styles, the principal novelty is the gored sack, 24 to 30 inches long, and made with and without revers. The plain sack has held sway for several years. A mink boa and must can be bought as low as $25, but the finer grades bring $75 to $125. The imitation mink is made out of muskrat skins. The dyed sets sell as high as $12, and the common undyed sets at $5. There is a cheap black Astrakhan which will sell as low as $7 to $10 .--Black marten is likely to be a favorite with those whose purses permit them to go a little higher. Very pretty sets will retail at $18. However, for young ladies there is nothing so value their health, it is scarcely a matter of surpretty as real ermine. A boa and muff, or a collar, if preferred, sell from $20 to $35. Of TAL DISCOVERY, admitted to be perfectly course there are more costly sets, for those who harmless, and yet accomplish all, and more, than can afford to be extravagant. White codey, with black spots inserted, are made in imitation of ermine. These sell at $5 a set. For every day wear, squirrel is neat and serviceable, and especially for school-girls, as it wears forever, and never gets soiled. Good sets bring $12.

Russia sable cannot be indulged in under $100 for a boa and muff, and even then the set is but inferior. Grebe feather collars and muffs most economical preparation in use. Put up in were introduced last season, and are likely to be much worn the coming winter. They are lovely for lovely women, but homely women should beware of them. A collar and muff will retail at $15 to $18.

A JAPANESE TEA HOUSE. - The Hon. James Brooks, writing to the Express from Yokohama, gives this vivid description of Japanese tea houses: What I saw on this Tocaido a good New York fancy reporter could make a thousand columns of, with pictures added on to make a thousand more; but a man don't see much when riding backwards in an American minister's carriage, in the hi, hi, hi style we were going, with guardsmen and betto. All the way, more or less, are planted pleasant tea houses. We "tea" here, when we must stop by the wayside, and in such little bits of cups that I could drink the contents of twenty of them, and then want more. Pretty tea girls stand by the entrance, and (their teeth not yet blackened,) with pretty ways and courtesies so fascinating, that tea, even without sugar or milk, becomes agreeable. Tea houses are the grog-shops of Japan. Our pretty lacquered waiters, the tea girls, hand you little, tiny cups, with a mouthful in them, and you squat down on the nice, cleau mats, if squat you can—I have to stretch out at length, and fill up half a tea room—and you sip and sip, and sip this mouthful of hot tea, as if the god's nectar was going down your throat in infinitessimal drops of microscopic invisibility. -Tea. like sleep, is a great invention. Ther's Bass' beer, all the way from London, stuck up in the corner of the tea house shop, for beer-drinking, travelling Englishmen; but what's Bass' beer to tea-tea, if you can only get enough of very superior quality and handsome styles, of it, this hot weather, with the thermometer over 90? A Japan tea house keeper picks out iy 6. W. B. WADDEY, 74 King st. over 90? A Japan tea house keeper picks out as pretty a place for the tea house as he or she (the keeper) can get. The keeper covets, if possible, a view of, and the air of, the Bay of Yeddo, along which the most of the way here, runs the Tocaido. The grand tea house is cut up into numerous little rooms, with paper partitions between to part them, running on slides, out is a great relief to the traveller. STRICTLY PURE CIDER VINEGAR, two years old, and pure whole and ground Spices.

J. ROGERS, 68 Sharp street, Baltimore, an ourinent physician, writes regarding CRYSTAL DISCOVERY

"It affords me much pleasure to bear testimony as to the efficacy of your Crystal Discovery. Some years since, while in India, I suffered from will also be worn, but it is not nearly so graceful. These are made principally in sealskin and Astrakhan. The sealskin sacks will sell at the sealskin sealsk retail from $55 to $125; the Astrakhan, from $20 to $75. White coney sacks are being made up very largely for children's wear. Mink is being made up into the favorite boas, which has held sway for several years. A mink boa my hair being dark brown. I consider your Discovery the best preparation I know of.

Yours truly, HENRY J. ROGERS. Now as the fact becomes more patent every day that the various dirty and filthy preparations advertised as Renewers, Restoratives, &c., are but compounds of Sugar of Lead and Sulphur, and therefore should be shunned by all who the poisonous articles claim to do, should have growth of the hair positively in a few days; J. strengthens the roots, makes an excellent dressing, soiling neither clothes nor scalp; but on the contrary it gives the scalp a pure and cleanly look, removing all dandruff and scurf. It is the large bottles, at one dollar.

Relief in Six Hours! No Mercury! Persons ruined by Ignorant, Trifling Pretenders and their Deadly Poison, should apply immedi-

DR. JOHNSTON

Member of the Royal Collegeof Surgery of Loudon, Graduate of one of the most eminent Colleges in the United States, and the greater part of whose life has been spent in the hospitals of London, Paris, Philadelphia and elsewhere, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known; many troubled with ringing it. the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately

TAKE PARTICULAR NOTIOE. Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for either business, study, society or marriage.

These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by the early habits of youth, yiz. Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the blend, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Narvous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consump-

MENTALLY .- The fourful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of Memory, Confusion of Ideas, Depression of Spirits, Evil Fore-bodings, Aversion to Society, Self Distrust, Love produced. Thousands of persons of all agescan now judge what is the cause of their declining health, losing their vigor, becoming weak, pale, nervous and emaciated, having a singular appearance about the eyes, cough and symptoms of Consumption

YOUNG MEN Who have injured themselves by a certain prac-tice, already described, a habit frequently learn-ed from evil companions or at school, the effects of which are nightly felt, even when asloop, and if not cured, renders marriage impossible, and destroys both mind and body, should apply immediately. What a pity that a young man, the hope of his country, the pride of his parents, should be snatched from all prospects and enjoyment of life by the consequence of deviating from the path of nature, and indulging in permicious habits. Such persons must, before contemplat-

MARRIAGE. Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness, Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkens to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and tilled with the melancholy reflection that the happiness of anoth, is blighted with our own.

SEASE OF IMPRUDENCE. Where misguided and improdent votary of pleasur inds that he has imbibed the seeds of this pair all disease, it too often happens that an ill-times ense of shame or dread of discovery de-ters him from applying to those who, from educa-tion and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease makes their appearance, such as norrid disease makes their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commisseration till death puts a period to his dreadful suffering, by sending him to that undiscovered country "from sending him to that undiscovered country from whence no traveller returns."

It is a melancholy fact that thousands DIR victims to this terrible disease, through falling into the nands of ignorant or unskiful PRETENDERS, who, by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the consitution, and incapable of curing, keep the unhappy sufferer month after month taking their noxious of intransparences, and instead of being reinjurious compounds, and instead of being re-stored to a renewal of Life, Vigorand Happiness in despair leave him with ruined Health to sigh over his galling disappointment.
